Circuit Court Adjourns - Personal and General Notes.

EMPORIA, VA., October 26.-(Special.)-The Circuit Court of Greenesville county, Hon. B. A. Hancock presiding, adjourned its fall term yesterday, after a session of three days. There was a large quantity of chancery business attended to, and likewise a good deal of common law business of an uncontested nature.

Mr. S. V. Southail, Jr., a lawyer of our bar, has gone to Suffolk on a short trip.

Mr. E. L. Turner, Clerk of Courts, is still confined to his home by indisposition.

A number of our people contemplate visiting your city on the Sist to be present at the launching of the Snubrick.

There are no criminal cases set for the November term of Greenesville County Court, which meets on the 1st Monday. I saw in the Petersburg letter to the Dispatch a few days ago that the negrowho was shot on a material-train of the Atlantic-Coast Line several days since had died at the Retreat for the Sick in that city, and that he was shot at Emporia. Such is not the case. If I am correctly informed, he was shot at Emporia Such is not the case. If I am correctly informed, he was shot near Garysburg, in the State of North Carolina. of three days. There was a large quanther of the bride.

The bridegroom, with his best man, Mr. James M. Lamberton, of Harrison-burg, entered from the chancel, as the bridesmalds advanced from the door. The bridesmalds were Miss Louis Abbot, of Bellevus, Va., and Miss Natalie Manson, of Lynchburg; Miss Tucher Clark, of Lynchburg, and Miss Alice Lang.

Rev. C. P. Ryland has gone to his old ome in Mecklenburg for a few days.

Hon. Alex. King, Democratic nomines or the House of Delegates from Greenes-lile and Sussex, was upon our streets rday. N. C. Lewis, of Lawrenceville, was ard, in a dainty and secondary cos-tume of yellow organdie, ribbon, and lace over taffets, and earrying a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemams. As the lovely bride walked up the atsie, leaning upon the arm of her uncle, Captain Charles M. Biackford, she was never so beautiful. Her bridal robe, of soft.

Dr. N. C. Lewis, of Lawrenceville, was in town yesterday.

Hon. John Chaplin, former member of the House of Delegates from this county, was in town this morning.

Mrs. C. C. Guthrie, after a pleasant visit to her parents, Dr. and Mrs. John R. Jones, has returned to her home in Efraingham, Ala.
